Every year millions of Londoners and tourists visit The Green Park, the smallest of the capital's eight Royal Parks.

Comprising just over 40 acres of mature trees and grassland next to Buckingham Palace, the peaceful triangle between Piccadilly and Constitution Hill offers a popular location for picnics and sunbathing in fine weather.

The Big Park Draw - 6th Sept 2014

It looked like it could be a damp time for the final Big Park Draw of 2014. Thankfully the showers cleared, and as the day drew on, so did the clouds. Yet again, a steady stream of visitors provided a wonderful range of drawing for us to put on our gallery. Hope you enjoy them.

See the picture gallery from today's event.

Don't forget there will be more Big Park Draw events through 2015. Watch this website for the exact dates. We hope you will come along and join in the fun.
